Environmental Commitment

Earth-Switch® Biodegradable Netting Technology that Works.

Many plastic products are eventually sent to landfill. With that in mind it became evident to MasterNet that offering a new safe technology within the product line would add value in fulfilling these end-of-life conditions. Several technologies were developed and tested, aligning with considerations on current national and international views as to what is considered safe. MasterNet has pursued technologies which allowed the products to degrade without heat or oxygen, which is typical of landfill conditions, and leave behind no toxic components.
